(Five-year undergraduate integrated master's degrees in Scotland are roughly equivalent to the Scottish typical four-year honours degree (BSc/BEng) immediately followed by a one-year postgraduate taught master's degree (MSc). The degree classification is calculated from a credit-weighted grade average of courses taken in the final three years: all five years are weighted 0:0:1:2:2.)

- Main MSc specialist areas: intelligent robotics, neural computation & neuroinformatics, machine learning.
- Dissertation: I built a dung beetle robot, programmed the robot with a neural model of navigational behaviour, and received a grant to travel to South Africa to test the robot against real dung beetles (the robot won).
- Edinburgh Award for volunteering to co-lead InfPALS sessions (Informatics Peer Assisted Learning Scheme).
- BCS Prize for Top Performance in Professional Issues, giving student membership, now professional (MBCS).
